

A83A Normal Pregnancy

This model shows the relationship between the fetus and the mother's body at the final stage of pregnancy. The abdominal region is separable into halves to show the vertebra, coccyx, internal organs such as intestine, liver, uterus, vagina, etc. The uterus has a fetus in it, which can be taken out to explain the relationship between ligament and placenta. Natural size. Mounted on a wooden base. Made of plastic.

11091-000